Safeguard your phone screen with scratch-resistant screen protection. Targus Tempered Glass Screen Protectors are made from Japanese Asahi glass with material hardness rated at a durable 9H. That means you get maximum protection against scratches, even when your device comes into close contact with your keys. The durability of these screen protectors is backed with a limited lifetime warranty* for the ultimate confidence in their quality.

With oleophobic coating, it's easy to clean fingerprints and smudges. The screen protector adheres bubble-free, and you can also apply and re-apply without leaving behind residue on the screen. Experience superior responsiveness and optimal screen clarity with precision-cut glass made to fit your device.

*For Targus Tempered Glass Screen Protectors a limited lifetime warranty on the screen protector for as long as the original end purchaser owns the product. The warranty does not extend to any devices or product not manufactured by Targus.
